DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

2. The references cited in the Search Report PCT/IT02/00784 have been considered, but will not be listed on any patent resulting from this application because they were not provided on a separate list in compliance with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1). In order to have the references printed on such resulting patent, a separate listing, preferably on a PTO/SB/08A and 08B form, must be filed within the set period for reply to this Office action.

Specification

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

In line 1, "The invention relates" is a phrase that can be implied.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 6-10 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim should refer to other claims in the alternative only and cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claim 2 recites the limitation "the cooling fluid" in line 3, and claim 3 recites the limitation "the evaporator" in lines 2 and 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Armstrong et al. (US 2,799,782).

Art Unit: 2834

Armstrong et al. disclose invention as claimed: an internal-combustion engine 23, an electric power generator 24 connected to the internal-combustion engine for being actuated by it and generating electric power, wherein that the generator is cooled with cold air obtained by means of a cooling apparatus 136 associated with the operating unit.

9. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bianchi (US 6,414,399).

Bianchi discloses invention as claimed: an internal-combustion engine 2, an electric power generator 15 connected to the internal-combustion engine for being actuated by it and generating electric power, wherein that the generator is cooled with cold air obtained by means of a cooling apparatus 33 associated with the operating unit, a compressor 18 connected to the engine, and evaporator 35 located adjacent the generator.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 3/1, 3/2, 4/3/1, 4/3/2, 5/4/3/1 and 5/4/3/2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bianchi (US 6,414,399) in view of San Miguel (US 6,732,827).

Art Unit: 2834

Bianchi discloses the unit essentially as claimed. However, Bianchi does not disclose the generator being cooled by ventilated air passing through at least a part of the evaporator.

San Miguel discloses a generator 40 having a cooling air passage 72 supplied with air from the air conditioning unit 16 for the purpose of providing cold, filtered and dehumidified air for the generator cooling.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to design the unit as taught by Bianchi and to provide the generator being cooled by ventilated air passing through an air conditioning unit as taught by San Miguel for the purpose of cooling the generator with clean and sub-cooled air that inherently reduces the size of the generator and increases the life of the system. It will be further obvious to pass the air through at least part of the evaporator since the evaporator is inherently the part of air conditioning system where such sub-cooling and dehumidification of air may occur.

Prior Art

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
